Lancashire and Cumbria satellite invite you to join them for a networking breakfast at the Wardell Armstrong Archaeology Laboratory in Carlisle.

Following a breakfast butty, we will be taken around the lab and shown more about the Archaeological process, after the dig.

Wardell Armstrong has been involved in exciting projects such as East Anglia One, the Cumbria House Development on Botchergate, and Carlisle Southern Link Road. This is your opportunity to see the artifacts, hear about projects and learn about the environmental sample processing.

This networking is not all just rocks and bacon rolls!
