

Modern Methods of Construction Conference

Tuesday 3rd March 2020
11am – 3.30pm
AMRC Factory 2050, Europa Ave, Sheffield S9 1ZA

Women in Property Yorkshire and the North East are delighted to host a joint event with the Advanced Manufacturing Research Centre Construction Research Group to discuss the existing and future position of modern methods of construction across the built environment professions. We are delighted to welcome the following speakers who will discuss current projects using MMC, the lessons learnt from modular construction and what is needed to ensure investment is focused on increasing the use of 'modular', offsite construction in the future.

- James Illingworth Head of Construction Research, AMRC
- Philip Watson Director Head of Design, HLM Architects
- Amber Beare Design Manager, Urban Splash
- Mehregan Alimi Advance Manufacturing Lead, Laing O'Rourke
- Lucy Lovatt MMC Policy Lead, Homes England

The AMRC are at the forefront of developing new technologies to reduce build time and cost, improve safety and reduce wastage. The event will conclude with a tour of the Construction Research Group's facility within the impressive Factory 2050 building. The tour will demonstrate some of the methods being developed and tested currently. Lunch and refreshments will be provided at the event.
