Northern Ireland is fast catching up on the approach to Rights of Light in England and Wales and this is becoming a hot topic as developers grapple with the implications of how these rights operate and what they need to do when preparing a site for development. This talk will be presented by Emily Hyde of GIA, a leading surveyor in this area and Joanna Robinson, a Real Estate Partner at Pinsent Masons LLP.

We are expecting this event, which is aimed at commercial, residential and development professionals, to be in high demand. We suggest you book early to avoid disappointment.
