Registration Deadline: Monday 15 November 2021

The Central Scotland branch is delighted to welcome Nicola Barclay of Homes for Scotland, who will be speaking about her career and the paths that led to her current position as Chief Executive.

Nicola has direct responsibility for running Homes for Scotland, the national membership organisation providing a voice for the new homes building industry in Scotland. With a career spanning over 25 years in the home building industry, including sales, land acquisition, funding and planning, Nicola will touch on the work she is doing to drive forward the housing agenda on behalf of members, at this pivotal time for housing and the economy.

We will be holding this event in Bureau's brand-new Edinburgh office space, where there will be an opportunity to network over drinks and grazing platters.
