Capital Allowances is currently the only form of tax relief on capitalised expenditure. With UK and non-resident landlords alike now within the Corporation Tax regime, as well as the limits on carried forward losses and the impending increase of the Corporation Tax rate from 19% to 25% in 2023, Capital Allowances has become an increasingly important mechanism with which to retain profits within businesses.

This webinar, presented by Chris Waldren of Gleeds, will focus on the following three areas:

- Provide an overview of the various tax reliefs available, including the 'Super Deductions' and First Year Allowances introduced within the 2021 budget.
- Identifying the opportunities to maximise allowances and optimise the tax-relief cashflow, and
- Securing and retaining Capital Allowances

Chris Waldren, Associate Director within the Gleeds Advisory Tax and Insurance Team. He has previously worked for a 'Big Four' accountancy firm as well as a global cost and project management consultancy company. He is a Chartered Taxation Surveyor and has specialised in Capital Allowances since 2002.
