Women in Property

New year, new normal but no time to formulate a new resolution to build your career? Juggling the pros and cons of remote working, missing the support of colleagues, not to mention everyday feedback from managers?

This is where mentoring can help, whether you are at an early stage in your career or contemplating a major progression, by providing a critical friend, someone outside your work and home environment who can lend an ear and share experience and skills. Or perhaps you are considering becoming a mentor in these challenging times, to support someone else.

Led by Sandi Rhys Jones OBE, our mentoring scheme not only brings together potential mentors and mentees, it also provides training and transferable management tips to help them develop an effective relationship. Delivered online, in an interactive and positive environment.

Comments from those taking part.

'Excellent event - fun, informative and enjoyable.'

"Gave me the confidence to be a mentor."

"Superb speaker. Sandi created an environment in which people felt comfortable to share and listen to each other."

"There were several comments from other people on the call that resonated with me. It is lovely to hear from people in different professions experiencing the same things as me."

"Today's event was really empowering. Listening to others' experience is very valuable."
